Battle Progressing East of Paris, One Of World's Fiercest

FIELD MARSHAL FRENCH'S REPORT MOST INTERESTING.

 The most absorbingly interesting feature of the war news thus far is the official report of Field Marshal French, which he gives the details of the tactical retreat of his army before the advancing hosts of the German invaders. It will be found in full on page 2 of today's Advocate.

BRITISH ARMY HOLDING FAST

And Ready to Make An Advance, Supported By French Who Are Prepared to Take Care of Any Reinforcements That May Come Up.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Sept. 10.—The left end of the curved German battle line which on Sept. 7 extended in the segment of a wide circle from Meaux to Vitry le Francois, about 100 miles to the east of Paris, was hit by the English trip hammer yesterday and forced to double back for a distance of approximately 20 miles. This outcome of the fighting has aroused great satisfaction in Paris. It is argued that it probably has resulted in an equal degree of anxiety for the German general staff concerning its line of communications.

In spite of the contained soberness of the French official communications on the progress of these engagements, it is evident that the actions of yesterday and the day before constituted one of the hottest battles of the war.

Yesterday evening a large number of automobiles, loaded with stretchers speeded out of Paris toward the east. This fact might suggest also that yesterday's action was one of the most costly advantages so far gained by the allies.

The Germans seem to have realized that they have been led into a dangerous position for they have brought up reinforcements for their left. In spite, however, of their desperate attacks, the British troops not only held the ground already gained, but forged ahead. While the official reports failed to indicate the direction in which the Germans have retired, it is believed here that they have withdrawn to the northeast in the direction of Epervier, a town about 70 miles from Paris.

The British troops having crossed the river Marne, are now in a position to follow up their successes. They are menacing the Germans constantly with a turning movement. This is particularly true in that they have the support of the French forces left on the banks of the river Ourcq, who are ready to deal with any German reinforcements that may be brought into action.

SKIRMISHING OF ARTILLERY EAST OF ANTWERP, BEL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says: "Reports from Putten, in the Netherlands, near the Belgian border indicate that skirmishing in which the artillery is engaged, has occurred northeast of Antwerp. Many houses near Putten were demolished by the Belgians to provide an unobstructed field for the artillery."

Position of Russian Army And Progress of Campaign Given in Official Bulletin

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Petrograd, Sept. 10.—The following references to the progress of the Russian campaign in Galicia were made public through official channels: "The continued offensive movements of the Russian troops makes it impossible to establish definitely the quantity of troops of the enemy."

"The Russian army occupied the fortified position of the Austria at Nizolna, south of Lemberg, in Galicia after fighting which lasted two days took immediately, after allowing the men only two hours of rest, a night march for the purpose of attacking new positions occupied by the enemy."

"Hundreds of prisoners, as fast as they fall into Russian hands are sent to railroad stations bordering on the battle front. These prisoners are not even enumerated."

American Correspondents Who Have Been Following German Army, Are Safe in Holland, After Trying Ordeals

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rotterdam, Sept. 10.—Via London, Sept. 10.—S. A. M.—The party of American correspondents who accompanied the German army for nearly two weeks across Belgium and into France, found themselves safe on Dutch soil today after being held prisoners by the Germans for four days under unusual circumstances. The Associated Press correspondent reached Rotterdam late last night.

For the first week the party had been under surveillance at Aix la Chapelle, whither they had been brought on a train, with prisoners from Beaufort, Belgium. The party included Roger Lewis, the Associated Press; Irvin S. Cobb, the Saturday Evening Post; and the Philadelphia Ledger; James O'Donnell, Bennett and John T. McCreheon, the Chicago Tribune, and Harry Hansen, the Chicago Daily News. With them on the trip to Aix la Chapelle were three other correspondents, Maurice Gerbault, a Belgian correspondent; Lawrence Stein, Stevens, an American artist, formerly of Detroit, and Victor Hennebeard, King Albert's special photographer.

The party of five Americans left Brussels on August 23 with special military passes and were the only correspondents who were successful in following the German army. The party proceeded by carriage to Nivelles, where the sound of cannon so frightened the carriage driver that he returned to Brussels, leaving the correspondents to proceed on foot. The party succeeded in marching along, with the army sometimes in sight until Beaumont was reached. Here the Germans had established temporary headquarters. At Beaumont the correspondents were held up by commander Mitterdorfer, whose suspicions against all newspaper men had been aroused by a party of three correspondents, picked up the previous day, who represented themselves as Americans although two of them were Belgians. The trio had been taken to a Beaumont jail. The party included Gerbault, Stevens, and Hennebeard, and the negro chauffeur. All were arrested for photographing and traveling in an automobile, which unlawfully carried a red cross flag.

The American party was allowed to spend the night on the stone floor of a Belgian school house, which had been converted into barracks for the German troops.

The correspondents were courteously treated by the soldiers who after the day's thirty mile march sang, danced and otherwise entertained them royally until midnight.

The next day the Americans were kept waiting in the public square in the center of a group which included Prince August Wilhelm, the third son of the Emperor and other high military authorities.

After being repeatedly told that they were not prisoners, the Americans were locked up with the three other correspondents arrested the day before. Stevens had already been sentenced to be shot as an English spy. The jail was filthy, harboring a large number of French prisoners taken in the skirmishes south of Beaumont.

This was stacked with tiers of German high explosives, a rather uncomfortable situation in view of the fact that the French prisoners were contented with the day's thirty mile march sang, danced and otherwise entertained them royally until midnight.

MANY SPOILS ARE TAKEN BY BRITISH CORPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Sept. 10.—2:50 P. M.—The official press bureau has given out the following statement: "The battle continued yesterday. The enemy has been driven back all along the line. Sir John French reports that our first corps has buried 200 German dead and taken 12 main guns."

Some prisoners also were taken. "Our second army corps has captured 153 prisoners and a battery. The Germans suffered heavily. Their men are stated to be very exhausted."

"British troops have crossed the River Marne in a northerly direction."

"The Russian army occupied the fortified position of the Austria at Nizolna, south of Lemberg, in Galicia after fighting which lasted two days took immediately, after allowing the men only two hours of rest, a night march for the purpose of attacking new positions occupied by the enemy."

PRESIDENT SEES NECESSITY OF THE RAILROADS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson has acceded to the request of the railway executives who asked him to "call the attention of the country to the pressing necessity for support of railway credits by the co-operative and sympathetic support of the public and all government authorities."

Today he sent a letter to Chairman Frank Thompson of the Chesapeake and Ohio board, pointing out that a great measure of the nation's prosperity is dependent upon the condition of the railroads.

The President, however, is understood to take the position that it would be improper for him to seek to influence the interstate commerce commissions on the question of rate increases.

ASQUITH CALLS FOR 500,000 MORE MEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Sept. 10.—Premier Asquith today asked Parliament to add another half million of all ranks to the regular army. The supplementary estimates, issued in the form of a white paper asking parliament to vote this increase says it represents the probable excess beyond the similar increase voted August 5, which will be required for the army service.

This will bring the total of all ranks in the army to 1,154,400 men, a figure unprecedented for Great Britain.

After a short debate Premier Asquith's motion to increase the army by half a million men was unanimously adopted.

"The Russian army occupied the fortified position of the Austria at Nizolna, south of Lemberg, in Galicia after fighting which lasted two days took immediately, after allowing the men only two hours of rest, a night march for the purpose of attacking new positions occupied by the enemy."

INTERNAL WAR MAY COMPEL AUSTRIA TO SUE FOR PEACE

Graphic Report of the Operations of the British Army During Four Days' Battle On the Continent, Gives Account and Reasons for the Retreat Before Overwhelming Numbers—German Force Waiting Outside Ghent for Provisions Has Hastily Left—Latest War News.

The silence of Berlin and Bordeaux up to early afternoon emphasizes the decisive character of the battle being fought east of Paris and along a line of a hundred miles or more.

There are indications that the Germans are reinforcing their center which is bearing the brunt of the British-French onslaught and are making a tremendous effort to regain the ground lost to the allies—estimated by the latter to be 25 miles. There are evidences also that the allies are strengthening their left wing.

The Russian advance is described at Petrograd as now occupying almost a straight line from Koenigsburg on the Baltic in East Prussia, to Cracow. The Russians are said to be driving the Germans before them on the west bank of the Vistula.

According to Serbian advisers, Serbian troops have crossed the river Save and are successfully invading Hungary. Montenegrin troops are in Bosnia hoping to incite a revolution in that Austria province.

Premier Asquith has called upon Parliament to add another half million men to the British army. Ambassador Page, at London, has informed President Wilson that Great Britain is determined not to make peace until Germany is decisively defeated.

A message from Vienna says it is officially admitted there that Archduke Frederick lost 120,000 men in the recent fighting in Galicia. The detailed experiences of the British army during the first week of fighting in France are told in the report of Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force and made public in full today. Sir John describes his forces as making an orderly withdrawal in the face of overwhelming odds. The report makes no reference to events subsequent to August 28.

A despatch from Tokio says that Japan has been made a party to the agreement by which none of the enemies of Germany and Austria will make peace without the previous consent of its allies.

In Petrograd it is believed that Austria will soon sue for peace in order to avoid the dissolution of the dual monarchy.

A Copenhagen despatch says that a large German squadron has been observed along the Gulf of Bothnia steaming east.

An official statement issued at London late this afternoon says that the Germans have been driven back all along the line. The statement, however, appears to refer to the fighting of yesterday and adds little to the information already published by the French ministry of war.

FRENCH EMBASSY HAS REPORT OF HEAVY FIRING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, September 10.—The French embassy today received the following dispatch from Bordeaux, bearing yesterday's date: "The right wing of the Germans has been withdrawn north of the Petit Morin, though fighting on the 8th, and has been sharply attacked on the right bank of the Ourcq. Our troops are making progress at Sezanne."

The armies in the west seem as if passing to watch the fateful drama in Galicia, the outcome of which may have a tremendous effect on the plans of the invaders in the western theater of war, as well as upon the allies themselves, in that region.

Text of Emperor William's Message to President Wilson Extenuating His Troops' Conduct

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Sept. 10.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Rotterdam has telegraphed the text of the message sent by Emperor William to President Wilson, under the date of Sept. 4. It is as follows: "I consider it my duty, sir, to inform you as the most notable representative of the principles of humanity that after the capture of the French fort of Longwy, my troops found in that place thousands of dum dum bullets which had been manufactured in special works by the French government. Such bullets were found not only on French killed and wounded soldiers and on French prisoners, but also on English troops. You know what terrible wounds and awful suffering are caused by these dum dum bullets, and that their use is strictly forbidden by the generally recognized rules of international warfare."

I solemnly protest to you against the way in which this war is being waged by our opponents whose methods are making it one of the most barbarous in history. Besides the use of these awful weapons, the Belgian government has openly incited the civil population to participate in the fighting, and has for a long time cruelly organized their resistance. The cruelties practiced in this guerilla warfare, even by women and priests, toward wounded soldiers and doctors and hospital nurses were such that eventually my generals were compelled to adopt the strongest measure to punish the guilty and frighten the blood-thirsty population from continuing their shameful deeds."

"Some villages and even the old town of Louvain, with the exception of its beautiful town hall—hotel Deville—had to be destroyed for the protection of my troops."

"My heart bleeds when I see such measures inevitable, and when I think of the many innocent people who have lost their houses and property as a result of the misdeeds of the guilty."

CAVALRY

USED AS A SCREEN TO MASK GERMAN'S FLANK MOVEMENT TO EASTWARD.

Chief Factor in War is Artillery. Exhaustion and Wits of Generals.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Sept. 10.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in France, describing the turn of the tide in favor of the allied forces, says:

"From trustworthy sources, it is reported that we have already cut part of the German line of communication in the east and it seems highly probable that we shall soon be able to drive them back upon their ammunition and supply column."

"At the same time one cannot withhold a tribute of admiration to the extraordinary and efficient way in which the German cavalry played their part. It now seems certain that the German advance, which so scared us last week, was the throwing forward of a screen of cavalry to mask the enemy's flanking movement eastward and that they had no present intention of investing Paris."

"The two chief factors in the war are artillery and exhaustion. It is undoubtedly a contest of generals."

OCEANIC WAS NOT CAPTURED; BUT RAN ASHORE

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Sept. 10.—A notice posted today at the office of the White Star line declares that the steamer Oceanic, the loss of which was announced by the press bureau last night, ran ashore.

This is the first definite news as to what caused the loss of the Oceanic. Last night it was said that she had been wrecked on the north coast of Scotland, but no further details were given. The Oceanic had been taken over for government service. All her effects and crew were saved.

THOSE KILLED IN BATTLE ARE TWO PER CENT

Of Total Injured: Wounds of Latter Quickly Heal and They Return.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Sept. 10.—The Bordeaux correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company states that according to a statement made today by a member of the health department in the ministry of war the present European war was not resulting in a very heavy loss of life.

"In every hundred men placed hors de combat only two are killed," this official said. "Our wounded are numerous but their injuries are generally slight, the most men being hurt in the arms or legs and the wounds almost invariably heal rapidly. Many of those wounded have already returned to the front. However, our low mortality rate may be attributed in part to the poor aim of the Germans."

MORE DENIALS FROM BERLIN, OF ATROCITIES

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Sept. 10.—The German embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin: "Herr Helfferich, director of the Deutsche Bank, after touring in Belgium states:

"News of destruction of Belgian towns is exaggerated. Verriers and Tirlemont, industrial centers, and Charleroi, quite intact; Louvain and Dinant only partly destroyed."

"After the surrender of Ghent, a German officer was insidiously killed and another wounded. The Russian

SPARING AUSTRIA WITH IDEA OF HAVING HER DESERT GERMAN ALLY

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Sept. 10.—Via Paris. Sept. 10.—The newspaper Giornale d'Italia, in remarking that the Anglo-French fleet in the Adriatic never displayed energetic action, advances the supposition that England and France, whose relations with Austria are traditionally friendly, are purposely sparing the idea of inducing her to come to terms separately from Germany, despite the triple alliance thus isolating Berlin.

Field Marshal French's Official Report of Operations of British Army

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Sept. 10. The text of the report of Field Marshal Sir John French, in command of the British forces in France, was made public today. The report is addressed to Earl Kitchener.

The report is published in the London Gazette the official organ. It follows:

"The transportation of the troops from England by rail and sea was effected in the best of order and without a check. Concentration was practically completed on the evening of Friday, August 21 and I was able to make dispositions to move the force during Saturday to positions I considered most favorable from which to commence the operations which General Joffre requested me to undertake. The line extended along the line of the canal from Conde on the west through Mons and Binche on the east."

"During August 22 and 23 the advance squadrons did some excellent work, some of them penetrating as far as Soignies (a town of Belgium, 10 miles northeast of Mons) and several encounters took place in which our troops showed great advantage."

"On Sunday, the 24th reports began to come in to the effect that the enemy was commencing an attack on the Mons line, apparently in some strength, but that the right of the position from Mons was being particularly threatened."

"The commander of the first corps had pushed his flank back to some high ground south of Bray, and the fifth cavalry evacuated Binche, moving slightly south. The enemy thereupon occupied Binche."

"The right of the third division under General Hamilton was at Mons, which formed a somewhat dangerous salient, and I directed the commander of the second corps if threatened seriously, to draw back the center behind Mons. This was done before dark."

"In the meantime, about five in the afternoon I received a most unexpected message from Gen. Joffre by telegraph, telling me that at least three German corps were moving on my position in the front and that another corps was engaged in a turning movement from the direction of Tournai. He also informed me that the two reserve French divisions and the fifth French army corps on my right were retiring, the Germans having on the previous day gained possession of the passage of the Sambre, between Charleroi and Namur."

"In view of the possibility of my being driven from the Mons position I had previously ordered a position in the rear to be reconnoitered."

"This position rested on the fortress of Maubeuge on the right and extended west to Jenlain, southeast of Valenciennes on the left. The position was reported difficult to hold because standing crops and buildings made the sitting of trenches very difficult."

"When the news of the retirement of the French and the heavy German corps threatening on my front reached me, I endeavored to confirm it by aeroplane reconnaissance and as a result of this I determined to effect a retirement to the Maubeuge position at daybreak on the 24th."

"A certain amount of fighting continued along the whole line throughout the night and at daybreak on the 24th the second division from the neighborhood of Harmignies made a powerful demonstration as if to retake Binche. This was supported by the artillery of both the first and second division while the first division took up a supporting position in the neighborhood of Pelsant. Under cover of this demonstration the second corps retired on the line of Dour, Quarable and Frameries. The third division on the right of the corps suffered considerably loss in this operation from the enemy, who had retaken Mons."

"The second corps halted on this line where they entrenched themselves, enabling Sir Douglas Haig, with the first corps, to withdraw to the new position."

"Towards midnight the enemy appeared to be directing his principal effort against our left. I had previously ordered General Allenby with the cavalry to act vigorously in advance of my left front and endeavor to take the pressure off."

"About 7.30 in the morning General Allenby received a message from Sir Charles Fergusson, commanding the fifth division, saying he was very hard pressed and in urgent need of support. On receipt of this message, General Allenby drew in his cavalry and endeavored to bring direct support to the fifth division."

"During the course of this operation General de Lisle of the second cavalry brigade thought he saw a good opportunity to paralyze the further advance of the enemy's infantry by making a mounted attack on his flank. He formed up and advanced for this purpose, but was held up by wire about 200 yards from his objective and the Ninth Lancers and the Fifteenth Hussars suffered severely in the retirement of the brigade."

"The Nineteenth infantry brigade which had been guarding the line of communication, was brought by rail to Valenciennes on the 22d and 23d. On the morning of the 24th they were moved out to a position south of Quarable to support the left flank of the second corps. With the assistance of cavalry, Sir Horace Smith Dorrien was enabled to effect his retreat to a new position, although having two corps of the enemy on his front and one threatening his flank. He suffered great losses in doing so."

"At nightfall a position was occupied by the second corps to the west of Bayay, the first corps to the right. The right was protected by the fortress of Maubeuge and the Nineteenth brigade in position between Joniam and Ernay and cavalry on the outer flank. The French were still retiring and I had no support except such as was afforded by the fortress of Maubeuge, and determined efforts of the enemy to get around my flank assured me that it was his intention to hem me against that place and surround."

"I felt that not a moment must be lost in returning to another position. I had every reason to believe that the enemy's forces were somewhat exhausted, as I knew that they had suffered heavy losses. I based therefore that his pursuit would not be too vigorous to prevent me choosing my object. The operation, however, was full of danger and difficulties."

"The retirement was recommended in the early morning of the 25th to position in the neighborhood of Leveau, and the rear guard was ordered to be clear of Maubeuge and Bayay by 5.30 a. m. Two cavalry brigades with the divisional cavalry of the second corps covered the movement of the second corps, and the remainder of the cavalry division with the Nineteenth brigade, the whole under command of General Allenby, covered the west flank."

"The fourth division commenced its detachment at Leateau on Sunday, the 23d, and by the morning of the 25th eleven battalions and a brigade of artillery, with the divisional staff were available for service. I ordered General Snow to move on to take up a position with his right south of Solesmes, his left resting on the Cambrai-Leateau road, south of Lachapelle. In this position the division rendered great help to the effective retirement of the second and first corps in new positions."

"Although the troops had been ordered to occupy the Chambrai-Leateau-Landreces position, and the ground had during the 25th been partially prepared and entrenched, I had grave doubts as to the information I had received as to the accumulating strength of the enemy against me, and the wisdom of standing there to fight."

"Orders were therefore sent to the corps commanders to continue their retreat as soon as they possibly could, towards the general line of Verdun, St. Quentin, and Ribemont, and the cavalry under General Allenby was ordered to cover the retirement. Throughout the 25th and far into the evening the first corps continued their march to Landreces, following the road along the eastern border of the forests of Mormal, and arrived at Landreces about 10 o'clock."

"The enemy however would not allow them this rest, and about 9.30 o'clock that evening the report was received that the fourth guard's brigade in Landreces was heavily attacked by troops of the Ninth German army corps, who were coming through the forest to the north of town. This brigade fought most gallantly and caused the enemy to suffer a tremendous loss in issuing from the forest into the narrow streets of the town. This loss has been estimated from reliable sources at between 700 and 1,000."

"At the same time information reached me from Sir Douglas Haig that his first division was also heavily engaged south and east of Marilles. I sent urgent messages to the commander of two French reserve divisions on my right to come up to the assistance of the first corps which they eventually did. Partly owing to this assistance, but mainly to the skillful manner in which Sir Douglas Haig extricated his corps from an exceptionally difficult position in the darkness of night, they were able at dawn to resume their march towards Wassy and Guise."

"During the fighting of the 24th and 25th the cavalry became a good deal scattered, but by early morning of the 26th, General Allenby had succeeded in concentrating two brigades to the south of Cambrai. The fourth division was placed under the orders of the general officer commanding the second army corps."

"On the 24th the French cavalry corps, consisting of three divisions under General Sordet had been in Billets, north of Avesnes. On my way back from Bayay which was my poste de commandement during the fighting of the 23rd and 24th, I sighted General Sordet and earnestly pressed his co-operation and support. He promised to obtain sanction from his army commander to act on my left flank, but said that his horses were too tired to move before the next day."

"Although he rendered me valuable assistance later on in the course of retirement, he was unable on the reasons given, to afford me any support on the most critical day of all, mainly, the 24th."

"At daybreak it became apparent that the enemy was throwing the bulk of his strength against the left of the position occupied by the second corps and the fourth division. At this time the guns of four German army corps were in position against them, and Sir Horace Smith Dorrien reported to me that he judged it impossible to continue his retirement with daylight, as ordered, in the face of such an attack."

"I sent him orders to use his utmost endeavors to break off the action and retire at the earliest possible moment as it was impossible to send him support, the first troops being at the moment incapable of movement."

"The French cavalry corps under General Sordet was coming upon our left rear early in the morning, and I sent him an urgent message to do his utmost to come up and support the retirement of my left flank but owing to the fatigue of his horses he found himself unable to intervene in any way."

"There had been no time to entrench the position properly but the troops showed a magnificent front to the terrible and which confronted them. The artillery, although out-matched, fought a splendid fight and inflicted heavy losses on their opponents."

"At length it became apparent that if complete annihilation was to be avoided, retirement must be attempted and the order was given to commence it about 3.30 in the afternoon. The movement was governed with most devoted intrepidity and determination by the artillery, which had itself suffered heavily, and the fine work done by the cavalry, in the further retreat from the position assisted materially the final completion of this most difficult and dangerous operation. Fortunately the enemy had himself suffered too heavily to engage in an energetic pursuit."

"I cannot close the brief account of this glorious stand of the British troops without putting on record my deep appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Sir Horace Smith Dorrien. I say without hesitation, that the saving of the left wing of the army under my command on the morning of the 26th, could never have been accomplished unless a commander of rare and unusual coolness, intrepidity and determination had been present to personally conduct the operations."

"The retreat was continued far into the night of the 26th and through the 27th and 28th, on which date the troops halted on the line from Noyon, Chauny and Leferre, having then thrown off the weight of the enemy's pursuit."

"On the 27th and the 28th, I was much indebted to General Sordet and the French cavalry division which he commands, for materially assisting my retirement and successfully driving back some of the enemy on Cambrai. General Amade also, with the 61st and the 62nd reserve divisions, moved down from the neighborhood of Arras on the enemy's right flank and took much pressure off the rear of the British forces."

"This closed the period covering the heavy fighting which commenced at Mons on Sunday afternoon, August 23 and which really constituted a four days' battle. At this point therefore, I propose to close the present despatch."

Coveys of Bursting Shrapnel and Exploding Shells Filled Valley With Dense Smoke.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Sept. 10.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail, gives a description of the battle of Meaux, on the Marne, 27 miles east-northeast of Paris, of which he was an eye witness. He says: "I came upon the battle at Meaux with astonishing suddenness. My motor car had just shot up the rise that overhangs the little town and there it was before my eyes in the valley, dense white balloon smoke from exploding shells, little coveys of shrapnel bursting in air, showers of black earth ripped out of solid ground, farm houses and hay stacks flaming and German aeroplanes cruising overhead."

"German shells were falling in the fields just beyond Meaux but strain our eyes as we may even through strong glasses, we could nowhere find French batteries replying. Every now and then the French infantry may be seen moving in the trenches."

"Descending to the town we find a pitiable sight, with houses wrecked, bridge blown into a shapeless mass of ruins, aeroplanes overhead and shells still bursting beyond the town."

"The streets are like a city of the dead. Only when the chasseurs come clattering through the streets, are the shutters cautiously opened and the inhabitants peep out. Through these openings it is curious to see women darning socks as though nothing was happening."

"I tried to get into the fields but was warned back by an old man. The bombardment still continued as I left Meaux."

REPORT BATTLE AT CHALONS AND HEAVY LOSSES

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Bordeaux states that wounded soldiers relate that a big battle lasting 24 hours took place last week at Chalons. The French, after inflicting heavy losses on the Germans, retreated in good order.

General Exelmans, one of France's most brilliant cavalry leaders was dangerously wounded while leading a charge.

The situation in upper Alsace, according to the dispatch, has been completely changed by the departure of the German troops. Engagements resulting in favor of the French took place September 2, in the region around Altkirch and the Germans were pushed back towards the Rhine.

In a despatch from Belgium which relates that the German force that has been waiting outside Ghent for the day of provisions demanded from that city has left hurriedly in a southeasterly direction.

England had looked hopefully for the Russian "steam roller" to get under way but the impetus which the Russian army in the eastern theater of the war had already acquired has surprised the military experts. The movement of the Russian advance has been so speedy that the German divisions advancing on the Vistula are hardly likely to arrive in time to assist their sorely pressed ally in Galicia.

Reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian armies are already driving the Germans before them on the western bank of the Vistula. In this region the only base left for a rallying point for the Austrian and German forces is Cracow, the capital of the Kingdom of Poland, situated in Galicia in a broad plain on the left bank of the Vistula and not more than 20 miles from the frontier of Silesia. If this place falls before the onslaught of the Russians, it is felt in London that the annihilation of the Austro-German armies in the southeast may result.

The Russian advance now occupied almost a straight line from Koennsburg on the Baltic to Cracow. If Austria is disposed of, a tremendous battle line from 200 to 300 miles long may sweep into the German Empire.

Like a wildcat pursued by hounds, the British force backed stubbornly towards the river Oise constantly showing its teeth, but realizing that it must attain the river or perish."

General Frenche's frank confession has fallen like a bombshell on the English public, which up to the present time have not been permitted to know how hard pressed their army has been."

On August 26 the British forces according to their commander, faced the bulk and strength of four German army corps and were in danger of being surrounded and destroyed. The heroic stand of General Smith Dorrien on the British left undoubtedly saved the day."

On this day the British stood alone; even the French cavalry on account of the exhaustion of their horses, being unable to cover the retreat. Great comfort is derived by the British public from this report, particularly from the indications that throughout these trials their troops never lost their morale."

stantly lighting surreptitiously cigarettes under cover of their straw bedding. After a short incarceration the Americans, through the kindness of a German lieutenant, were removed to a small cafe adjoining the prison, where later they were followed by the three other suspects who were the cause of their detention. For two nights they slept on the floor under a heavy guard and still told that they were not prisoners but warned that they would be shot if they moved one step out of the house."

After they had given their word of honor that they would not attempt to escape, their guard was doubled. No food was supplied the prisoners, their only sustenance being a bottle of wine from the chateau of Prince Chimay, which was taken by the Germans. The bottle was brought to them by a petty officer.

During their imprisonment the Americans received an alarming visit from an intoxicated German officer who called them English spies and insisted upon giving convincing demonstrations of the sharpness of his sword when he heard English spoken. The officer cleverly remarked to the German soldiers of the guard: "Ha, they have betrayed themselves. They call themselves Americans but they speak English."

At Beaumont the correspondents saw hundreds of French and English prisoners brought in from the direction of Maubeuge. All were well treated by the Germans. Finally one night the Americans were taken, with a hundred French and a hundred English prisoners to a prison train, the destination of which was unknown. They were asked politely enough by the German officers to walk alongside the prisoners and act as guards. At the same time the officer said in an aside to the German guard: "Keep your eyes open, and on those Americans. If they move or step from the ranks, shoot them."

The train carrying besides the prisoners several cars of wounded German soldiers, arrived at Aix la Chapelle after a two days' slow journey. All eight of the correspondents were packed into a single second class compartment, without food or drink and at the mercy of Belgian snipers, who frequently fired from houses as the train passed.

The party arrived at Aix la Chapelle carefully guarded by secret service and military guards and were forbidden to leave the city.

The surveillance of the military guard and the police relaxed when the authorities discovered that the American correspondents had in their possessions accounts favorable to the German army. The party finally crossed the Dutch border without permission of the authorities.

BASSADOR THAT GERMANY'S DECISIVE DEFEAT

Must Be A Condition Precedent to Any Overtures Looking to Close of War.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Sept. 10.—Great Britain is determined not to make peace until she has decisively defeated Germany. This sentiment has been conveyed to President Wilson in
London.
Ambassador Page's report and the convention signed by the allies have had the effect of discouraging efforts on the part of the Washington government to renew its tender of good offices. It was stated authoritatively in official quarters that neither from the side of Germany and Austria, nor the allies had the slightest ray of encouragement for the making of peace been revealed. The Washington government therefore is waiting for a more propitious moment before renewing its efforts to end the conflict.

BOSTON DEVELOPS NO-HIT PITCHER; BRAVES STILL LEAD

Boston, Sept. 10.—Boston increased the lead in the National League pennant race yesterday by breaking even in a double-header with Philadelphia, while New York was losing. The second game, which Boston won, 7 to 0, after losing the first by 10 to 3, was marked by a no-hit, no-run pitching performance by one of the recruit pitchers, Davis, formerly of the New York Americans.
He was wild at times, tilling the bases in the fifth inning with nine out. But he recovered control and retired the side without a run.

FORD WANDERS AWAY; FINALLY COMES TO GRIEF

Stanley Wilson claims unusual intelligence for his Ford automobile after the capers it cut in West Locust street, Thursday morning. The machine wandered west from Sixth and Locust, turned the curve just west of Sixth and traveled as far as Eighth street with no guiding hand to direct its destinies. Unfortunately, both for the machine and the good record, it got too near the curb line, struck a carriage block and was slightly damaged—both in the record and mechanism.

Mr. Wilson stopped at the home of his father on an errand, leaving the engine running. In some manner the clutch became engaged and the machine started away. A boy passing along the street saw the start and notified Wilson who started hot foot after his runaway car, but it had the handicap of nearly a block and it crashed into the stone in front of the Lovett property before Mr. Wilson reached it.

The car traveled more than two blocks, making the turn just west of Sixth street in some unaccountable manner. The front spring was damaged, the steering gear bent but otherwise no damage was done.

PEACE TALK IS STILL IN THE AIR SAYS PRESIDENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson announced today that he would reply to Emperor William's message which he said contained nothing that could be construed as a desire for peace negotiations.

The president told callers that he had received no official word from any of the warring nations about peace. He said talk about peace was still "in the air."

Girl's Sudden Disappearance Is Most Unusual and Cause Of Much Alarm Among Friends

Laura Bishop, a comely young miss of seventeen years, daughter of a Mr. and Mrs. Bishop of the Mt. Vernon road has disappeared and no trace of her can be found by Probation Officer Mrs. Mary Miller who has the matter in charge.

The girl was making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Varner of near Wilkin's Corner, and according to them had always conducted herself in a manner highly commendable. She never entertained any gentlemen friends at the Varner home and when attending public functions always accompanied and returned home with them.

She informed the Varners that she would like to make a visit with friends of hers in Newark before the opening of school and on Saturday, Aug. 26, Mr. Varner brought her to town and she went to the Carroll store to make some purchases. There she informed Mr. Varner that she knew he was eager to return home, that her friends lived in Maple avenue near the car line, and she would take a car to their home. He left her, bidding her good-by and she promised to return in a week's time.

On the following Tuesday the Varners received a letter from the girl posted at Newark and dated the 26, the same day she came to this city, but posted the following Tuesday. It indicated that the writer was evidently writing under duress or that she had suddenly for some reason or other become erratic. It was disconnected at times and was written in a rambling way which would convince the reader that the girl was hardly responsible for her utterances. She claimed to be at the home of a woman who she said was a good, true woman, and that her trouble would be of short duration.

Mr. Varner reported the matter to Mrs. Miller the following Saturday, four days after the letter had been received. Mrs. Miller called on the young girl's mother and later the mother called at the probation court and informed Mrs. Miller that she had thought for some time that her daughter's mind had been affected.

Mrs. Miller has taken the matter up with the police department and has also caused inquiry to be made in some of the nearby cities. She will start a personal investigation in several of these places and will make every effort to locate the missing girl so that she may be returned to her friends who are greatly concerned over her disappearance.

The Bishop girl is reported as being of medium height, will weigh about 110 pounds, has grey eyes, brown hair, a round face and when last seen was wearing a pink chambray dress and white hat. She had a suit case with her containing other clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dold of North Fourth street are entertaining as their guests: Sister Alexia and Sister Dolores of the Good Samaritan Hospital, Zanesville, and Dr. and Mrs. Sutton and daughter Margaret of Zanesville.

Mrs. R. E. Riggs and Mrs. Walter Gray and children, Clarence and Zada, of Holmes county are visiting Mr. C. J. Kerr of Penny avenue for the last two or three days. They have also visited nieces and nephews of Licking and Knox counties and now are leaving for Ada, Ohio, where they will meet Mr. Gray who is in school for the year.

Mr. Otis Kerr is visiting his parents, C. J. Kerr of Penny avenue, and relatives of Holmes county, who are visiting Mr. C. J. Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frame have returned from a visit in Zanesville.

FRENCH SENDS LATE NEWS OF MORE SUCCESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Sept. 10.—That the enemy was driven back all along the line yesterday is the news, cheering to British readers, that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary force, sent to England this afternoon from the battle line of the allies to the east of Paris.

This statement of the British commander is driven home to Englishmen by the further announcement of the annexation by British troops of a dozen German Maxim guns and a battery of German field guns and it is further emphasized by official confirmation of the capture of numbers of German passengers.

Field Marshal French's telegram shows that fighting of the fiercest character is in progress and his statement that the German forces are very exhausted confirms unofficial information from other quarters that the counter attack of the allies has been delivered with such speed and impetuosity that the invaders have been given no chance to recover from the effects of their rush from the north.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stare and Mrs. Willis J. Young are in Junction City today, attending the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Mary Scheffer, who died Monday at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Zanesville.

BELGIANS SAID TO EXPECT EARLY AMALGAMATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Sept. 10.—Dispatches from Berlin say that the incorporation of Belgium as a part of the German Empire already is being treated as an accomplished fact by a large part of the Berlin populace. Officials state that it will at least be included in the Zollverein—the German customs union to which it is also suggested, Austria may be added.

WANT MEETING TO DISCUSS THE RATE INCREASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Sept. 10.—Traffic managers and commissioners of Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton and Springfield, chambers of commerce today met with the state public utilities commission in an effort to arrange a meeting with representatives of the railroads for a discussion of the five per cent. increase in freight rates which is expected to go into effect some time this fall.

A flat advance of five per cent. on freight rates in Ohio will work a hardship on shippers in the state, according to the traffic managers, and it is their intention of possible to induce the railroads to refrain from putting into effect the increase on interstate commerce in such a manner as would put Ohio shippers at a disadvantage with shippers in other states.

The increase granted by the government for interstate commerce, will cause the advance of shipping rates on intra-state commerce. The state utilities commission has jurisdiction over intra-state commerce.

AGREEMENT ON PEACE TREATIES WITH AMERICA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Sept. 10.—In the midst of the European war, Great Britain, France, Spain and China have agreed to a peace commission to meet in the United States. One effect of the new convention would be to put the United States from being a bystander suddenly into the conflict.

Germany, Russia and Japan have signified their principle of this negotiations having advanced to the point of discussing similar agreements.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. Richmond, 199 Waldo Street, Providence, R. I.

A Minister's Wife Writes:

CLOQUET, MINN.—"I have suffered very much with irregularities, pain and inflammation, but your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has made me well and I can recommend the same to all that are troubled with these complaints."—Mrs. JANE ARKMAN, c/o Rev. R. ARKMAN, Cloquet, Minnesota.

From Mrs. J. D. Murdoch, Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. MURDOCH, 25 Gordon St., South Quincy, Mass.

WRITE TO LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., FOR ADVICE. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

REVENUE BILL AGREED UPON BY COMMITTEE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Sept. 10.—Democrats of the ways and means committee today completed the war revenue tax bill providing for a tax of three per cent on all freight transportation, an increase of 50 cents on beer and twenty cents a gallon on all domestic wines. This will net an estimated revenue of $107,000 a year. The tax on freight was agreed to after a conference with the president who had expressed opposition to it.

Chairman Underwood said he believed the bill would be approved by the president and the Democrats in Congress. It is estimated that the net revenue from the freight tax will be $65,000,000; from beer $33,000,000; and from domestic wines $9,000,000. The latter will be assessed against those wines "hereafter manufactured and sold or hereafter removed for sale."

It will not affect manufactured now for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stare and Mrs. Willis J. Young are in Junction City today, attending the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Mary Scheffer, who died Monday at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Zanesville.

11 BILLIONS OF DOLLARS FOR U. S. FARMERS

NEWARK TRUST CO. REPORT TAKES A BOLD VIEW OF SITUATION

Business Bound to Improve Whether Or Not the Great War in Europe Continues.

In its September "Business Digest" The Newark Trust Company says in part:

"In undertaking to report the general condition of business and finance in America today, we are fully sensible of the tremendous task before us. The general trend of business can be changed in a day by new developments in the European situation. In general, it is safe to say that as much as we deplore the terrible war into which Europe has been plunged, this country cannot fail to benefit commercially and the misfortune of Europe, while a misfortune to the entire world, may leave in its wake some material benefits to the people of America, if it does nothing more than to wake us up to the possibilities of the expansion of our trade with the South American countries.

The steadiness with which American business has met the new conditions is the best evidence of our present stability and of the resourcefulness of this great country. Present conditions call for a clear head and a steady nerve. In the end the business man who is strong enough to push steadily ahead and make each day's business count will win, but the man who attempts to make a quick fortune because he chances to own a warehouse full of meat or grain, taking this fortune out of the pockets of the people at large, may find himself discredited and a financial failure.

With the large crops produced this year, the farmers would have been compelled to be content with comparatively low prices had it not been for the European War. The total volume of all crops produced this year sets a new high record for this country and because of recent and prospective prices, the total amount received for these crops by the farmers will be greater than ever before. It is estimated that the 14 principal crops will bring the farmers 6 billions of dollars and these together with the minor crops and the live stock raised this year will bring the farmers about 11 billions of dollars.

It will be impossible for us to indicate in this report the future trend of business further than to say that business in this country must improve whether the European difficulties are settled or whether they continue indefinitely, if this country continues to maintain an absolutely neutral attitude.

"FERGY" KEPT IN LIMELIGHT BY HIS FRIENDS

A special telegram from Petoskey, Mich., to the Grand Rapids Herald, contained the following regarding a former Newark newspaper man and was headed in the Herald, "This is Worth Even What It Cost for Telegraphic Tolls":

"That the hail stones that descended in Petoskey, Sunday morning, were large is known, but from the story told by Frank L. Ferguson, former Ohio newspaper man, who has a farm near Petoskey, extra large ones struck his place.

"Early Sunday morning, Mr. Ferguson dragged himself out of bed to investigate the damage done on the farm by the storm. He found several trees injured, and a number of windows broken.

"As I was passing the hen coop," declared Ferguson, "I heard an unearthly cackling from within. Fearing some of the inmates had been struck by hail and were dying, I hurried in. There was an old bird, all fluffed out, strutting about and singing a song of triumph.

"The hen hadn't laid an egg for the last four years, and I couldn't understand it. On investigation I discovered a hail stone had dropped through the roof of the hen coop and landed on a nest. Shortly after, biddy climbed into the nest to get warm, but pretty quick she got cold instead and hopped off. Discovering the stone, the old hen came to the conclusion she had laid an egg, and she hasn't yet recovered from the shock.

"I could prove this," concluded Ferguson, "if the evidence hadn't melted."

FOOD FACTS.

What An M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful re-builder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly. Just as I did in strength and weight.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me; in fact I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking no more work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postmaster, Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 10 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

WILL SWEEP GERMANY LIKE A TIDAL WAVE

RUSSIAN ARMIES MAKING DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO DISPOSE OF AUSTRIANS

And Will Then Immediately Begin Movement Across the Empire to Berlin.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Sept. 10.—Telegraphing from Petrograd the Morning Post's correspondent says:

"The Russian armies are moving forward driving the Germans before them on the western bank of the Vistula river. The retiring Germans have Cracow behind them on which to rally.

"Cracow is about the same meridian as Koenigsburg and the Russian forces are almost levelled up to this meridian with armies in east Prussia, 200 miles from the point where the Austrians are now fighting their last fight.

"When Austria is disposed of, Russia will immediately begin a westward march on a front, 200 miles wide that will sweep like the tidal wave across the German empire.

"The key to the whole tactical situation is at Rawa, where the Austrians are making a desperate struggle to prevent the Russian advance movement. It is the last stand of an out-manuevered army and defeat means annihilation."

NERV-WORTH HELPS GRANVILLE ST. MAN

One Bottle of the Nerv-Worth Tonic Arouses His Gratitude and Evokes His Praise.

Mr. J. C. Baker, of 462 Granville St., is another Newark man whose health has been put upon its feet by Nerv-Worth, the world's greatest nerve tonic, now on sale at the T. J. Evans Drug Store, Warden Hotel Bldg. Mr. Baker's formal statement is as follows:

"I was sick with liver and stomach trouble. My food would not digest, I was very nervous, my heart was much affected, blood circulation was poor, I was compelled to give up my daily work, impossible to attend to it owing to my weakened condition.

Those who saw me can testify to the same. After taking one bottle of Nerv-Worth, I feel strong again, my general health is much improved, my food is digested, I sleep well and am rested in the morning after a good night's sleep and am able to go to work. I recommend Nerv-Worth to my friends and will be much pleased to talk with anybody about Nerv-Worth and tell them personally my experience."

This is a faith-builder. Mr. Baker freely offers to talk with sufferers about Nerv-Worth's merits. But you may find it more convenient to go to the Evans Drug Store than to refer the matter to Mr. Baker, if when you get there you can buy the remedy on a guarantee. Your money back if it does not help. Secure a free sample dose from the specialist there.

Cleaned the Lawns.

The court house lawns have been cleaned after the recent Labor Day celebration, the task occupying three days, and it was not an easy one by any means. The dozens of concessions sold articles with paper wrappings and as the public had access to the lawn it was literally covered with paper. A caretaker gathered it up by using a stick with a sharp steel wire in the end and he estimates that he gathered several hundred baskets of pieces of paper and cardboard.

FROST REPORTED IN LOW SECTIONS

Frost was reported in low sections early this morning but it was very light and did but little if any damage. The frost Wednesday morning was more general and in a number of instances "nipped" tomato vines, scorching the tops in many localities. The thermometer dropped to below 40 after midnight and at 6 o'clock this morning had only raised ten degrees. Wednesday night was the coldest of the present summer and many hauled out their winter overcoats and they were quite comfortable. The foresighted ones also had extra bed clothing handy and ready for instant use.

ASSOCIATION OF BAPTISTS NOW CLOSING

A Very Interesting Two Days' Session at Fifth Street Church—Tonight's Program.

A large congregation of delegates and church members assembled in the Fifth Street Baptist church on Wednesday evening, to hear Rev. D. T. Rittenhouse, of Middletown, O., who was the principal speaker at the evening session of the Columbus Baptist Association, which is meeting here for two days.

Rev. Rittenhouse in his discourse proved himself an orator and a thinker and he chose for his topic, "The Twentieth Century American." In his address the speaker said that the twentieth century American must possess the spirit of youth; must have a strong physical body and must be good morally.

The meeting on Wednesday evening was opened with the devotional half hour led by the pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist church, Rev. C. H. Stull.

The devotional services at 9:30 were preliminary to the work of Thursday, and the religious service was followed by a report of the committee on resolutions. The report of this committee threw the assembly into a discussion of some length.

During the sessions, in this city, those in attendance go to the First Presbyterian church in a body where meals are being served.

The program for tonight follows:

CLOSING SESSION.
7:00 P. M.—Address: The Bible Training School, Miss Ida Davis.
7:30 P. M.—Address (Illustrated) P. G. Detweiler.
8:00 P. M.—Round Table Conference, led by W. A. Holmes.
Benediction.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, Sept. 10.—Mrs. W. G. Tight, who has been busy packing her household goods for shipment, left yesterday for her new home, No. 8200 Detroit avenue, Cleveland, O., followed by the best wishes of her hosts of friends in this community.

Prof. and Mrs. A. D. Cole of Columbus were guests of Granville friends, Wednesday.

Many Granville Baptists are attending the meetings of the Columbus Association, held in Newark on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson on the Lancaster road, tomorrow, Friday afternoon. A report of the special committee which met last week, will be presented, and as many as can do so, are urged to attend, as Mrs. Lucy Van Kirk is to address the union.

Miss Lena Willis of Washington, C. H., and later of Washington, D. C., a graduate of Denison University, has been in Europe all summer, her itinerary taking her to Paris and Switzerland. Her friends have just received word that she was to sail from Liverpool on the St. Louis, which reaches New York on September 12. Miss Willis has many friends in Newark and Granville who will be glad to learn of her safety.

Miss Elsie Hirschberg of Newark, one of the most popular singers who ever attended the Denison Conservatory, has been in Germany during the past two years, singing in grand opera. Since war was declared no word has been received from her, but through the efforts of Congressman Ashbrook, she has been located with Miss Edna Wise in London. Their steamer tickets are purchased and Miss Hirschberg's friends hope soon to welcome her home.

The following announcements were received yesterday by Granville friends of a Denison graduate, distinguished for good scholarship during his college course. He was a member of C. B. White's household for several years. "Mr. Harry L. Delbel announces that he is engaged in the general practice of law, with offices in the Engineers' building, Cleveland, Ohio."

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seashore with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercurochrome treatment. With this treatment skin has best come off, for the amount of skin coming off will be very small. Such skin tends to look at the seashore, soft, elastic, with the treatment suggested. But the way to be before the skin is soiled and cold cream and first off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of dead skin will peel off day by day, gradually leaving the healthy, youthful skin beneath. Some ounce of mercurochrome, obtained at any drug store, is enough to keep an entire complexion clear and spotted. Its action is so gentle no irritation is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such work-makers that the daily use of the following astrigent tonic lotion at this season is highly advisable. Powdered salicylic acid dissolved in witch hazel, to be used as a face lot. This is a mild and effective remedy and preventative. Advertisement.

Five Dogs Killed in West Newark in Attempt to Stop Spread of Hydrophobia

Following an investigation by the health department Wednesday afternoon, death sentence was pronounced on five West Newark canines found to have been bitten by the dog owned by Mrs. Trovinger which is said to have suffered from rabies.

Thursday morning, representatives of the health department, accompanied by Patrolman Hurlbaugh of the police department invaded the neighborhood of Hancock and William street and with a shot gun, put to death five animals regarded as a menace.

In many cases the dog victims were pets of children and while parents regretted to see the animals killed, they regarded the action as a necessary precaution to prevent possible spread of the infection. Experts claim that a dog bitten by another suffering from rabies, may go several months without any indication of the disease showing up. Then suddenly the disease develops and the animal runs amuck, sometimes covering a distance of fifteen miles before its career is ended. As a rule a wild career of this kind results in many animals being bitten.

Arrangements were made Wednesday night for those who were bitten by the Trovinger dog to take the Pasteur treatment to prevent the development of the disease. Elmer Glenger, 12, son of William Glenger was one of the victims and L. R. James, insurance agent was another. Both took the precaution of having their wounds cauterized shortly after they were bitten. It is believed that this prompt action will prevent any serious consequences.

PROSELYTE JEW WILL TELL OF HIS CONVERSION

Rev. Max Wertheimer, Ph. D. of Ada, O., the ex-Jewish Rabbi will be at the Plymouth Church next Sunday. Dr. Wertheimer will speak at 10:45 a. m. on "The Deity of Christ" at 2:00 p. m. on the subject "How I was converted to Christ" at 7:30 p. m. on "The Second Coming of Christ."

Dr. Wertheimer is a graduate of the famous Jewish Theological seminary of Cincinnati, founded by the late Dr. Isaac M. Wise. After his graduation Dr. Wertheimer was called to the Synagogue at Dayton where he was Rabbi ten years. Dr. Wertheimer has a handsome gold watch his congregation at Dayton presented him shortly after settling there.

Dr. Wertheimer's story of how affliction led him to doubt and finally to abandon Judaism for Christian Science and later how by the scriptures he was led to accept Christ is a thrilling experience that will be related by him at the mass meeting in Plymouth Church at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

This is a rare opportunity to hear a learned and eloquent Jew. After his conversion Dr. Wertheimer joined the Baptist church and took a Theological Course at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. Later he became the Pastor of the Baptist church at Ada, Ohio. Dr. Wertheimer's time is now occupied in preaching and teaching the scriptures and his engagements up to the middle of February take him as far east as Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., New York and other large cities.
